Emeritus Professor Aileen Wee

Professor Aileen Wee graduated from the University of Singapore in 1975 with MBBS. She trained in Histopathology at the Department of Pathology, NUS, and obtained her specialist degree in Histopathology from the Royal Colleges of Pathologists in Australasia and the United Kingdom in 1981 and 1982, respectively.

Her research interests include fine needle aspiration biopsy of liver, and hepatobiliary pathology, including liver transplantation pathology.

Professor Wee is a reviewer and advisor on several regional/international journals, has published over 150 articles in peer-reviewed journals and is co-author of several books and book chapters.

Dr Sinchita Roy-Chowdhuri

Dr Sinchita Roy-Chowdhuri is a board-certified Cytopathologist and Molecular Pathologist, currently working as an associate professor in the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine, The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center. Her main research interests include the application of molecular diagnostics in cytology samples for targeted cancer therapy. Dr Roy Chowdhuri serves as a member of several national committees and as a reviewer for several Pathology journals, and have authored numerous peer-reviewed publications in the field of Pathology.

Dr Sara E Monaco is an associate of Geisinger Medical Laboratories in Danville, Pennsylvania, where she serves as the system director of Cytopathology.

She is also a professor of pathology at Geisinger Commonwealth School of Medicine, her primary area of interest is in non-gynaecologic cytopathology, particularly in the use of fine needle aspiration biopsy and the application of molecular techniques in cytopathology.

Dr José A Jiménez-Heffernan MD PhD is an Associate Professor of Anatomical Pathology at the Universidad Autonoma de Madrid and Department of Pathology, University Hospital La Princesa, Madrid.

Dr Liron Pantanowitz is a Professor and Chair of the Department of Pathology at UPMC and the University of Pittsburgh. He received his medical degree from the University of Witwatersrand in South Africa and subsequently completed his residency at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Harvard in Boston. He is a pioneer in the field of pathology informatics and has dedicated over two decades to working in this innovative field.
